

OCTOBER 2025

A NOTE FROM THE PASTOR

Greetings Heart of Longmont Family,

October is my favorite month of the year. There's something about the crisp air, the blaze of red and gold leaves, the bright orange pumpkins on doorsteps, and the return of cozy sweaters and jackets that fills my heart with joy and gratitude. October is a month that invites us to savor beauty and give thanks for God's faithfulness through the changing seasons.

As I reflect on this past season in the life of our church, I'm filled with gratitude for the powerful conversations and heartfelt reflections so many of you shared during our recent worship series on courage and Mariann Edgar Budde's book How We Learn to Be Brave. Your willingness to wrestle with hard questions, name your fears, and to practice courageous faith has been inspirational to witness. I want you to know what a gift you are to me and to this community. Thank you for living out your faith each and every day.

I want to say a heartfelt thank you for the extraordinary generosity you've shown through our Heart of Community capital campaign earlier this year. That campaign was dedicated solely to repairing our church building, roof, and parking lot so we can serve the community for years to come. Your continued gifts toward that effort are deeply appreciated.

At the same time, I'm so grateful for the generosity of tithes and offerings that allows the daily ministry of our church to occur. Our collective giving provides our staff their salaries, fuels operational costs, and allows for transformational ministry to happen. As we plan for our 2026 ministry budget, we need everyone's generosity to sustain and grow the vital work of this congregation.

Starting October 12, we'll be beginning a new worship series called Our Money Story, created by the leaders at A Sanctified Art. Over four Sundays, we'll reflect on how God invites us to live lives rooted in generosity. We'll explore how Scripture tells many different money stories. We'll unpack the story of manna in the wilderness, the generosity of the disciples in the early church, and celebrate how people trusted God enough to share what they had for the good of all.

Together, we'll ask:

- What have we been taught about money (explicitly or implicitly), and how does that shape the way we live and give today?

- What stories of fear or scarcity might God be calling us to release?
- What stories of trust, generosity, and abundance is God inviting us to embrace?

This is not simply about numbers or budgets. It's about our hearts, our values, and our discipleship. It's about allowing God's grace to reshape the way we see and use our resources so giving becomes an expression of love, gratitude, and hope for what God can do through us.

I'm very grateful for Haleigh Bird, who has created a beautiful series of video interviews that we will share each week during this worship series. These videos feature voices from our congregation sharing how Heart of Longmont has impacted their lives. I know these stories will inspire and encourage us as we reflect on our own journeys of generosity and faith.

I hope you'll join us for this meaningful season. My prayer is that this October will be full of reflection and renewal. May we soak in the beauty of this season and give thanks to the many ways the Lord continues to bless us.

With Gratitude,

REV. ANGIE DORNISCH

OUR MONEY STORY

WORSHIP SERIES CREATED BY A SANCTIFIED ART

STARTING SUNDAY, OCTOBER 12

As we enter the season of planning for our 2026 ministry budget, we invite you to join Pastor Angie Sunday mornings at 10:00 AM, starting October 12, for a new sermon series on Our Money Story. Reflect on how God invites us to live lives rooted in generosity and explore how Scripture tells many different money stories, what we've been taught about money, and how those lessons shape the way we live and give today; the stories of fear of scarcity God might be calling us to let go; what stories of trust, generosity, and abundance God is inviting us to embrace. Mark your calendar for Pledge Sunday, November 2, where you are invited to bring your pledges for the 2026 ministry year.

IN THIS ISSUE

- New sermon series for budgeting season
- Youth update and message from our new CFM Director
- Fun events for kids and families this fall including a Halloween Bash in partnership with Longs Peak UMC!
- Embodied Allyship training
- Boulder Crop Walk - Celebrating 40 years!
- Heart of Community Update
- Wesley Townhomes Open House
- Worshipful Moments and Sunday Funday photos!
- Get ready for the Holiday Fair in November!

BLESSING of the ANIMALS

SUNDAY
OCTOBER 19
at 2:00 PM

at Athletic Field Park (right next to the church!)

A SPECIAL BLESSING FOR YOUR PETS

We all know what joy our pets bring to our lives and here at the HOL we want to honor your pets by offering a special Blessing of the Animals on Sunday, October 19, at 2:00 PM at Athletic Park (just diagonal from our church).

The Blessing of the Animals tradition was first introduced by Francis of Assisi in the 13th Century. He was known for his deep respect for all creatures and was known for preaching to animals. We would like to invite you to bring your precious pets—furry, feathered, or scaled—for a special blessing from Pastor Angie as we celebrate the unique bond between God's creatures and their human companions. We will have both pet and human snacks available.

We'd love to see you there—tails wagging and hearts full! Don't forget it's in a new location this year: Athletic Park just diagonal from the church.

40TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BOULDER COUNTY CROP HUNGER WALK!

Have you ever faced hunger? Not just a rumbling tummy because dinner is an hour late, but the kind of hunger experienced when you don't know where your next meal will come from or when. Imagine yourself in that situation. Imagine the sadness of parents knowing they can't provide for their children. Maybe you will never have to experience true hunger, but many in our community face this reality every day.

The Heart of Longmont takes food insecurity seriously. We help as best we can by providing meals to the OUR Center, HOPE, and Wild Plum (through Chef Hearty) and for years we have participated in the Boulder County CROP Hunger Walk. You are invited to participate in the CROP Hunger Walk with us this yet. You can walk the short or long routes (starting at the Boulder Valley Unitarian Universalist Fellowship at 1241 Ceres Drive, Lafayette, CO 80026) or donate funds towards our HOL team. If you are able, please consider joining our team or donating to end hunger, one step and $1 at a time. You can donate to our team on our Captain Eric Andrews-Sharer's CROP Walk page. You can also sign up at the church using the Connection Center iPad.

We hope to see you Sunday, October 12, at 2:00 PM (registration begins at 1 pm) for an autumn afternoon walk with friends, putting God's love into the world by helping to feed the hungry. To learn more about the Boulder CROP Hunger Walk, visit their website: <https://events.crophungerwalk.org/crophungerwalks/event/bouldercro>

ROOTED IN FAITH THROUGH THE SEASONS

Fall always seems to come with a burst of energy. The air turns crisp, the leaves change colors, and our calendars quickly fill with school events, family gatherings, and church activities. In the middle of all the busyness, our youth group continues to gather on Sunday evenings—a steady rhythm that helps us stay rooted in faith. Each week, we share a meal, dive into a short lesson, and enjoy time together through games and laughter. It's simple, but it's these regular moments that build our foundation.

This season also brings some of our favorite traditions. We're planning our outing to Anderson Farms for the Haunted Corn Maze, a fall highlight filled with laughter, teamwork, and maybe a few good scares. As Christmas approaches, we'll celebrate with our annual youth Christmas party and lend our hands to the church's Santa's Workshop. And, if all works out, we'll head up to Buckhorn Camp for a fall retreat—a chance to slow down, breathe, and reconnect with God in the quiet beauty of the mountains.

Through all of this, we're reminded that perseverance doesn't always look like powering through on our own. Sometimes it looks like showing up, week after week, even when life is full. It looks like leaning on one another, laughing together, praying together, and making space for God in the midst of busy days. This fall, our youth are learning that faith, like the changing seasons, is steady and alive, carrying us through whatever comes next.

One of the most tangible ways our congregation supports the youth is by providing meals for our Sunday gatherings. If you'd like to sign up to bring dinner for the group, we'd be so grateful! The sign-up sheet can be found here on Sign Up Genius. You can find the link in the Weekly Pulse or via the church office.

EMILY FARRENKOPF, YOUTH DIRECTOR

FROM OUR (NEW) CFM DIRECTOR!

Hi, Heart of Longmont family!

I'm so excited to step into the role of Director of Children and Family Ministries.

I first came to this church back in 2000, and it's been such an important part of my life ever since. Over the years, I've sung in the Wesley Anns and the Church Choir, helped with Sunday School, and been part of Kids Hope USA. Our family has deep roots. My husband and then my kids grew up here, and this community has always felt like home to us.

Outside the church, I've worked in various positions, from ASL interpreting to multiple leadership positions with different small businesses.

I'm excited to bring what I've learned in my professional life into this new role, and to use those experiences to help grow the Children and Family Ministries.

I love talking with children about God, because their curiosity challenges what we think we know and encourages us to grow in our own spiritual journey. Most of all, I'm grateful for the opportunity to serve the church that has meant so much to me and my family. I look forward to learning, growing, and walking in faith together with all of you.

If you have any questions, comments, or ideas, please email me at cfm@heartoflongmont.org.

Blessings,

JANA YODER, CFM DIRECTOR

Join us Saturday, October 25, at 11:00 AM at Heart of Longmont for a Spooky Soup Post-Parade Luncheon. More information to follow in the Weekly Pulse—save the date!

HALLOWEEN BASH
WITH LONGS PEAK
UMC OCTOBER 26

Heart of Longmont CFM and Longs Peak UMC invites kids and families to a free, fun HALLOWEEN BASH on October 26, 4:00 PM to 6:00 PM at Longs Peak UMC (1421 Elmhurst Drive, Longmont). This is a Trunk or Treat event with additional fun activities, a bounce house, and snacks. Please dress up in non-scary costumes, so this event can be enjoyed by all. We will have a pumpkin painting station set up for kids to decorate pumpkins, too! More details to come in the Weekly Pulse and Sunday bulletins. If you have questions, please contact Jana (cfm@heartoflongmont.org) or Jase at LPUMC (jase@lpumc.org).

TOUR THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN EQUALITY CENTER

Come and be inspired! The Rocky Mountain Equality Center has created a vibrant, welcoming space that serves both their organization and the wider community. With modern conference rooms, state-of-the-art technology, a kitchen, patio, and flexible meeting spaces, the center is designed for connection and collaboration.

The creative use of color, signage, and design beautifully communicates their mission—and it might spark fresh ideas for us at Heart of Longmont as we explore new ways to express who we are as a church.

We'll caravan to Boulder on Sunday, October 26, joining friends from United Church of Christ. Meet at UCC (1500 9th Avenue) for a 12:00 PM departure.

Don't miss this opportunity to see an innovative space, share in fellowship, and gather inspiration for our own journey. Sign up at the Connection Center today!

HEART OF COMMUNITY MILESTONE UPDATE

We did it! Thanks to your incredible generosity, our Heart of Community Capital Campaign has surpassed its $1 million goal. We've received commitments totaling $1,163,055 from 87 family units—and an amazing $362,633 has already been given in just three months. That's over 30% of total commitments, well above the 15–20% typically received early in most campaigns. Thank you for believing in the future of our church!

On the strength of this early support, we've already completed our first priority: repairing air conditioning in the Office, Chapel, and Education Wing.

Even more good news: in September, commitments increased by $100,000, allowing us to pay off our debt. This strengthens our financial foundation and frees resources for ministry for years to come.

The parking lot project, originally planned for this fall, will now be completed in spring 2026. This timing ensures we do the work at the right season with clarity on scope and costs for long-lasting results.

Meanwhile, we're working with architects and designers to envision updates to our church's interior spaces and exterior face. These enhancements are about more than appearance—they're about creating welcoming, flexible spaces for mission and ministry. Join us on October 11 to see preliminary design renderings and share your input. Based on costs and scheduling, interior updates are likely to begin mid-2026.

Other priorities, such as the Gallery roof, remain dependent on project timelines and costs. We will arrange an inspection this fall and take steps to mitigate leaks through the winter and spring.

As always, we remain committed to transparency, thoughtful planning, and good stewardship. Together, we are building a foundation for the next generation of ministry at Heart of Longmont.

YOU'RE INVITED!
WESLEY TOWNHOMES
OPEN HOUSE

The Wesley Townhomes are nearly complete and they look fantastic! We are excited to share that The Inn Between has extended a special invitation to our Heart of Longmont family to come and see the beautiful new interiors.

Join us on Wednesday, October 23, from 3:00-6:00 PM for an Open House Celebration. A special presentation will take place at 4:00 PM. Some of the townhomes will be staged and open for touring.

This is more than an open house—it's a chance to celebrate what can happen when faith, vision, and community come together. Through God's guidance and our partnership with The Inn Between, these homes are becoming a place of hope and stability for families.

Come, be inspired, and see firsthand the good work we are doing together in Longmont!

Thank you for believing in the future of our church!

VETERANS DAY GUN SAFE GIVEAWAY

November 11th is not just a holiday, it is a sacred moment to honor the men and women who have stood in harm's way for our freedom. They have carried the weight of battle, sacrificed deeply, and returned home with scars, both seen and unseen.

Yet today, far too many of our veterans are fighting another battle—one against despair. The truth is sobering: more than half of U.S. gun deaths are suicides, and veterans are three times more likely to die by gun suicide. Since 2003, over 87,000 veterans have died this way. Every day, 13 veterans take their own lives with a firearm. These are not just statistics—they are fathers, mothers, children, neighbors, heroes.

But we can make a difference. By encouraging responsible gun ownership and placing even a few moments of time and space between a moment of crisis and a firearm, we can save lives.

That's why Heart of Longmont, together with the United Church of Christ, will be in Roosevelt Park after the Veterans Day parade, giving away free handgun safes and locks. This is an act of love, of gratitude, and of hope.

We are calling on you to join us.

Walk in the parade. Help us hand out safes. Show our veterans that their lives matter, that their sacrifice is honored, and that their future is worth protecting.

This is your chance to say thank you with more than words—this is your chance to help save a life.

Watch The Pulse for details on how to sign up. And remember: If not now, when? If not you, who?

HOW CAN I HELP?

You are invited to a special discussion at United Church of Christ (1500 9th Ave) on Sunday, October 19 at 11:30 AM. Together we'll explore both the joys and the challenges facing the LGBTQAI+ community today.

Members of the LGBTQAI+ community and representatives from Rocky Mountain Equality (RMEQ) will share insights in a short presentation, followed by a facilitated conversation on concrete steps we can take to stand with and support our LGBTQAI+ siblings.

In a time when hateful voices are growing louder, this is our chance to learn, to listen, and to act with love. If you've been wondering how you can make a difference, this is the place to start.

Child care will be provided.

Come ready to be inspired, informed, and empowered.

SALVATION ARMY BELL RINGING

The joyful tradition of ringing bells for the Salvation Army is back! This year, the need in our community is greater than ever. Times are especially difficult for many families, and your presence at the kettle can bring both hope and joy.

This is a wonderful chance to gather friends, team up with fellow church members, sing a few carols, and spread holiday cheer—all while raising money to support families in need.

Every dollar collected goes directly to the OUR Center, helping local neighbors during this challenging season. What better way to celebrate Christmas than by sharing music, lifting spirits, and reminding others they are not alone?

We'll be ringing the bells for two Saturdays in December in front of Sam's Club, with one-hour shifts available.

Sign-up sheets with specific dates and times will be coming soon. For more information, contact Marty Allison. Let's make this Christmas season brighter for those who need it most!

OCTOBER COMPASSION OFFERING

This month, our compassion offering will support the Heart of Longmont Blessing Box. Instead of monetary donations, we are asking for contributions of nonperishable food and personal health items to help stock the box and serve our neighbors in need.

Items especially needed include:

- Dried or canned milk
- Peanut butter
- 1 lb. bags of rice
- Canned meat or fish
- Canned beans
- Canned fruit
- Canned vegetables

- Canned soup
- Mac & cheese (boxed or cups)
- Snacks and crackers
- Toothpaste & toothbrushes
- Shampoo
- Bar soap
- Disposable razors
- Deodorant
- Hats, gloves, socks, and hand warmers

Collection baskets will be placed in the Sanctuary throughout the month of October. Thank you for helping us care for our friends and neighbors with generosity and love.

Defending LGBTQ+ Rights for Coloradans, at Home and in D.C. by Mardi Moore (she)

Originally published September 10, 2025

What happens in Washington, D.C. doesn’t stay in Washington. It directly impacts LGBTQ+ people here in Colorado, and that’s why RMEQ has been hard at work this year fighting back against harmful federal policies and making sure our community’s voices are represented, even outside of Colorado.

Next week, along with RMEQ COO Dr. Bruce Parker, and Neil Fishman, president of the Rocky Mountain Equality Action Fund board, I will meet with lawmakers and partners in D.C. to make sure Colorado’s LGBTQ+ community is heard loud and clear.

This work is about all of us, and together, we’re building a future where every LGBTQ+ person in Colorado can live authentically and thrive.

What We’ve Accomplished So Far
RMEQ’s federal policy work has focused on a few big things: protecting access to healthcare for trans youth and adults, fighting for LGBTQ+ people to be represented in federal data, defending students’ rights in schools, protecting our marriages, securing accurate gender markers on identity documents, and advocating for funding for programs that keep our community safe and healthy. And we’ve already made important progress. From protecting trans students by helping stop a proposed federal ban on transgender youth in school sports to fighting back against harmful rules that target gender-affirming care, passports, and LGBTQ+ affirming schools. We are committed to keeping up the fight and making sure our community is well informed about challenges to our rights and changes in federal policy.

How We’re Fighting Back Right Now
We know these attacks aren’t slowing down, so neither are we. Right now, RMEQ is:

- Teaming up with more than 80 organizations to oppose federal rollbacks of equal opportunity protections.
- Defending Colorado’s ban on conversion therapy that is being challenged in a U.S. Supreme Court case.
- Supporting Colorado laws that replace healthcare funding lost due to federal cuts.
- Working with local hospitals and agencies to make sure anti-LGBTQ+ orders from Washington don’t go unchallenged here in Colorado.

Looking Ahead
There’s still so much work to do. In the months ahead, we’ll keep pushing Congress to fully fund essential services, tracking court cases that could rollback LGBTQ+ rights, keeping our community updated on policy changes, and fighting back against every attempt to strip away our protections.

OUR MISSION

Putting More of God's Love Into The World; Helping all persons find deeper meaning and God's purpose for their lives as committed Christ-followers.

Serving as the Heart of Longmont means:

We will welcome all persons, without reservation or judgment, just as Jesus Christ would do.

We will work tirelessly by entering into intentional acts of compassion and social justice to make our community a place where God's love is known by all, where poverty and deprivation are unknown by any, and where respect for the worth and dignity of each person is the norm.

We will respect and honor other religious traditions while choosing Christ as our way of knowing God best.

We will emphasize life-long learning so that we may engage our world from a dynamic and creative perspective.

We will work to protect God's creation.

We will practice stewardship of all aspects of our lives, including time, talent, financial resources, and spiritual gifts.
